TIME MANAGEMENT TRAINING COURSE OUTLINE

FOREWORD

Most of us have, at one time or another, felt daunted and overwhelmed by the number of tasks and commitments that have been pushed in our direction. The key to tackling this situation is effective time management.

Understanding, identifying and defining your long-term goals is the very first step for an effective time management plan. With the broader goal in the background, you can now set your short-term goals that will effectively lead you to achieving the long-term goals in your life.

One skill that is prevalent in all leaders of repute is time management. People who use these techniques routinely are the highest achievers in all walks of life, from business to sport to public service. Managing time well enables you to be in control of your life; it allows you to act on situations rather than react to situations.

When reacting to situations you are ill-prepared and under stress, so your action is far from your optimum capacity. Whereas, when you act on situations, it is well planned and thus allows you to function at your highest. At the heart of time management is an important shift in focus: Concentrate on results, not on being busy. This is a one of the most important time management skills. Many people spend their days in a frenzy of activity, but achieve very little because they are not concentrating on the right things.

According to the Pareto Principle, or the '80:20 Rule', typically 80% of unfocused effort generates only 20% of results. The remaining 80% of results are achieved with only 20% of the effort.

By applying the skills taught in the Time Management Workshops, you can optimise your efforts to ensure that you concentrate as much of your time and energy as possible on the high payoff tasks. This ensures that you achieve the greatest benefit possible with the limited amount of time available to you. Contrary to popular belief, effective time management is not based on doing more things in less time.

This Time Management Training course is about doing the right things and doing them better.
